

National Trust of Guernsey's 'Folk at The Farm' concert with Eddy Jay and Will Pound
Thursday 13 June, 2019: from 6.30pm for 7pm start, finishing at 9pm.
INFORMATION SHEET

- Ticket sales are strictly limited to x57 at £25 per person
- The concert will take place on the first floor of Les Caches Farmhouse from 7pm
- Access to the first floor is via a 'tourelle', a circular stone staircase
 - Mobility issues should be considered
- Guests are invited to arrive from 6.30pm
- Plenty of parking
- Pre-performance refreshments
- Concert starts at 7pm, with individual exhibition pieces by Eddy Jay and Will Pound, and duo-performances for which they are famous.
- Refreshments and a fulsome farmhouse supper with vegetarian option, are available for all guests.
 - The ticket price of £25 covers the cost of air-fares, accommodation and performance fees for the artistes
 - Donations are gratefully received
- The menu for the evening is:
 - Boeuf Bourguignon with French bread
 - Vegetarian option
- Refreshments available throughout the evening
- Tickets will be confirmed by email
 - Please bring confirmation email to the door, together with cash or cheque for your ticket allocation

Some guests will have been at Eddy Jay's 'Folk at The Farm 2018 Concert' and also, his performance at The Summer Courtyard Concerts 2018.

- 'Astonishing, mesmeric and breath-taking'.

Will Pound reviews:

- 'One of the world's top harmonica players' The Daily Telegraph
- 'One of the most outstanding instrumentalists in the country today' BBC Radio Scotland

Tickets will fly out of the door, so please book early to avoid disappointment.
